

Quick Alopecia Areata Survey Needs You!

This survey is different from others you have received from Bald Girls Do Lunch in the past. In this one, BGDL lent its expertise to the survey developer in designing and distributing it to be more relevant to people with alopecia. This is Foresite Capital's survey. While the results will go to Foresite and not directly to BGDL, we will be sharing the aggregated results with you. Your privacy is being protected as stated below.

Your voice matters. This survey is to learn about living with alopecia areata — including people who have had regrowth. The purpose is to help accelerate meaningful clinical solutions.

- Take survey before August 2nd and you'll be entered into random daily drawing for one of five $25 Amazon gift cards.
- Privacy: Providing your email is optional. No answers will be saved or associated with your email by the survey creator. No individually identifiable responses will be shared with any entity outside the survey creator.
- Eligibility: take the survey if you have alopecia areata yourself or on behalf of any other person who has AA.
- Ages: open to all ages, gender and orientations
